LOCAL BOARD WARNS AMMUNITION IS ONLY FOR ESSENTIAL USERS

Not Available For Shooting Crows, Etc.

Principal headache of M-S-A Local Ration Board at present are the appeals for small arms ammunition, according to M. M. Shore, chairman. A special committee of the board has been set up to deal with the situation and study the appeals in relation to the orders of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. It has been found however, that very few requests can be met, Mr. Shore states.

Wartime Prices and Trade Board officials have notified the Local Ration Board "that the supply of small arms ammunition for civilian use cannot possibly be increased without seriously jeopardizing war production."

Deluged with requests for ammunition, the WPTB has emphasized its decision to allocate its supplies strictly to essential users.

"It is much more important to Canadians and everyone concerned," the officials point out, "that ammunition be supplied to the armed forces for shooting Germans, Japs and other Axis satellites than to sportsmen."

Essential users, according to the board order, are police and guards, persons who require ammunition for the protection of life and property and those living in remote areas who depend on hunting for food. Supplies have to be rationed even to essential users as these demands cannot be met in full.

Consequently citizens are asked to refrain from applying for ammunition for destruction of crows, ducks, groundhogs, gophers and like pests as these can be controlled by other methods.

The situation, it is stated, is hardly likely to improve in view of the need for copper and alloys for direct war purposes. Even though there has been tremendous increase in Canadian production of ammunition, officials also point out, these plants are running to capacity producing for the armed forces.

NIGHT SCHOOL CLASSES TO RESUME TUESDAY AT ABBOTSFORD, MATSQUI

Offer Four Courses If Enough Interest

Night school classes will resume at two centres in the M-S-A Area on Tuesday evening, October 12, according to E. W. Burton, principal of Philip Sheffield high school, Abbotsford who is supervisor of M-S-A night schools.

The number of courses conducted will depend on the enrolment next Tuesday but training will be offered in typewriting, woodwork, sewing at choral singing. Of these sewing will be offered at both Matsqui Superior and Philip Sheffield high school, Abbotsford, if a sufficient number of women and girls are interested in having a class at the latter. The other three proposed courses will be taught at Philip Sheffield high school.

The nominal fee as charged in past seasons remains the same, Mr. Burton states, the only additional expense to those interested in taking advantage of night training classes being the cost of materials they use. Additional information may be obtained from Mr. Burton.

HELP NEEDED TO PUT "ARMY" FUND OVER QUOTA TOP

Drive in Abbotsford is $50 Short of Objective

Rev. C. W. Bryce, chairman of the citizens' committee aiding the Salvation Army's "Home Front Appeal" in Abbotsford, reports the local fund about $50 short of its objective of $250. For this reason and because volunteer canvassers have probably not canvassed everyone able and willing to help the "Army" in its essential work of mercy, the fund is being kept open here. It is hoped that individuals not contacted will come forward and help put the drive over, the amount asked being small compared with that subscribed in other valley centres. Donations may be left with Rev. C. W. Bryce, D. E. McAllister, treasurer, or may be left in care of The News office.

COMFORTS CLUB SENDS 113 PARCELS OVERSEAS; $150 IN CIGARETTES

At the annual meeting of the Soldiers' Comforts Club held in the library Monday evening, the secretary reported that during the past year, $150.42 had been spent to send cigarettes to 193 boys overseas. Over the same period 113 parcels were sent at a cost of $110.65. Dues paid by the members of the club amounted to $82.30. Donations from friends were $203.35.

The girls made plans on Monday to send Christmas parcels to between 90 and 100 boys from Abbotsford, and they will be packed in groups to be mailed this month.

At the election of officers, Miss Frances Pengilly was elected president; Miss Hazel Green, secretary; Miss Audrey McDonald, treasurer, and Miss Lillian Owens, cigarette and parcel clerk.

TWELVE TONS HAY, POULTRY HOUSE BURN NEAR PEARDONVILLE

Dancers Awake Owner, Help Control Blaze

Fire of unknown origin destroyed a large poultry house and about 12 tons of hay on the Keeley property, on Huntingdon road, late Friday night. The hay was the property of C. W. Stratford, 3522 Huntingdon road, who rents the property from C. B. Keeley of Vancouver.

Many of the residents of the district were attending a dance in Peardonville hall when the fire was first observed and vol-

Seven More Quarts M-S-A Blood Needed For Wounded Fighters

Fifteen persons who want to give a little less than a pint of their blood to help save the life of men wounded in battle are required to make up the busload of 37 donors going as an organized group from the M-S-A Area to the Red Cross Blood Clinic in Vancouver, Monday, October 25, according to Mrs. R. T. Gilmore, who is handling the registration of donors.

A PINT OF BLOOD IN RETURN

Thrown from a tractor into the path of the plow behind, Mrs. Matt Anderson of Sumas Prairie received horrible injuries which later required amputation of her right leg.

That was more than three years ago, and today Mrs. Anderson gets around to her work with the aid of an artificial limb. This week brave Mrs. Anderson registered as a blood donor to accompany an M-S-A group to the Red Cross clinic in Vancouver on Monday, Oct. 25.

"I wouldn't be here myself today if it had not been for considerate friends who gave blood for me. I am unable to do much other work which will help to win the war, but this is one way that I can help others the way I was helped," Mrs. Anderson said.

unteers raced to the scene and helped confine the fire to the one building. They also awakened Mr. Stratford, who lives on another property about a quarter-mile distant and who had retired for the night.

Kilgard school will reopen on Tuesday, Oct. 12, with an enrolment of 80 pupils.

When announcement was made last week in The News of the organized group, fourteen prospective donors registered immediately, but towards the end of the week, the registration slackened off. It is believed that persons who wished to be donors did not bother registering, thinking the quota would have been filled up a few hours after the announcement was made.

Mrs. Gilmore expects that before the date of the trip to the clinic, the list of registrants will be greater than can be accommodated in the first trip. However, the first 37 persons eligible will be accepted for the initial donation and those on the waiting list will be the first registered for the next donation, provided the date will be suitable to them.

Only persons, male or female, between the ages of 18 and 60 years and who have no history of anemia, tuberculosis or fainting spells are acceptable — for their own sakes. A voluntary charge of 25 cents is being asked of donors to offset the cost of chartering Mr. Frank Sandberg's bus for the trip.

L. R. Cornwall of Clayburn and George F. Pratt of Abbotsford are believed to have been the only blood donors from this area to date, Mr. Pratt having contributed on five occasions. Mr. Cornwall has registered to accompany the group on Oct. 25.

A number of special diet items for the day of the donation are required and unless these are followed by the donors, the blood will be absolutely useless as plasma and will be thrown down the sink. Mrs. Gilmore will provide all registrants with a diet sheet and other necessary information. Her telephone number is Abbotsford 214. It is expected the bus will leave Abbotsford about 5 p.m. on Oct. 25 for the appointment at 7 p.m.

The blood given by donors is dried to a powder form, put in specially sealed bottles which will keep it in perfect condition for an indefinite period. Before being used, distilled water is added to the powder and it is then transfused to the patient. It is life-saving — and nothing known to medicine can take its place that is why donors are so urgently needed.

900 DAYS FARM HELP PROVIDED BY M-S-A OFFICE

Appeals for Labor Continue in October

While the farm help situation has eased with the advancing season, a steady demand for the various types of harvest and permanent help has been experienced by the M-S-A Placement Office in Abbotsford.

Since the last of the Volunteer Farm Fighters left here to help with the Okanagan fruit harvest or returned to their homes, it has been necessary for the Placement Officer, P. H. Reimer, to try and meet the demand from local sources, transferring workers from one farm activity to another as harvests were completed or recruiting new workers.

After school reopened Sept. 7, more and more of the older pupils returned to their studies increasing the demand for help, particularly as blackberries were just ripening, corn has to be picked and potatoes dug and sacked. Grapes are ripening now also and picking has commenced at Sumas vineyards. This creates a further demand for labor, Mr. Reimer reports, to help make grapejuice which is said to be in good demand.

Since the first part of September approximately 400 days of berry picking help have been supplied through the M-S-A Emergency Farm Labor Service office and some 500 days of general farm help.

Abbotsford stores will be open Wednesday forenoon, Oct. 13, because of the Thanksgiving holiday on Monday. Advertisers and correspondents are requested to send their copy in to The News as early as possible that next week's edition may be printed as usual on Wednesday.

ABBOTSFORD, B.C., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1943

Seed Money

With the lead given by the above caption, farmers at least will be able to appreciate the thought behind the following timely article because "seed money" strikes a definite chord in their minds. Actually this thought-provoking message comes from one of a series of advertisements placed in some newspapers by the McGraw-Hill Company, probably the largest publishers of technical books and magazines. It is entitled, "What will today's work buy tomorrow?" and in part says:

"Prices will depend upon the time it takes to make, distribute and deliver the things you will want to buy.

"The shorter the time, the lower the price.

"That's why machinery and mass production methods are so important.

"If machines and methods are constantly improved, more and more people can have good living—because wages can be high and prices low.

"Not all business men understand it, for there are thousands upon thousands of old machines in this country that are obsolete. Obsolete machines hold down wages and keep the prices high.

"Not all labor unions understand it, because some of them think the slower a job is done the more pay labor makes. That isn't true. Slow work makes high prices, and high prices mean fewer people can buy the products of labor.

"Government understands the need for constantly improved machines least of all. If you want proof, just look at the hundreds of tax laws and other government regulations that gum up the works so far as industrial expansion is concerned.

"If government, and labor and management can work out a method of co-operating to equip every workman with the best possible machines and methods of shortening the time it takes to make things, your war bonds will buy more and everybody will be better off.

"How can this co-operation be secured? We know management is willing. We believe most labor leaders are willing. Government acts only in response to public opinion, and that means you...

"Government cannot help industry take care of its post-war task of paying good wages, hiring back millions of workers, paying off the war debt and keeping prices down, unless government people change their attitude toward business profits.

"Business profits are the only source of industrial improvement and expansion. We built our great industries through plowing back profits in constant improvement.

"Profits that are plowed back into a business are called "Seed Money."

"Seed Money pays for research, for better production methods and for improved machines. Industry will need at least as much money to get out of war production as it needed to get in.

"Right now, Industry is producing the profits that could be the Seed Money for getting back into peacetime production. But government is draining off far too much of this Seed Money in taxes.

"We think government puts excessive taxes on business profits because government does not understand that industrial progress is the source of ALL good living."

Kiska Saskatoon Berlin

Some idea of what the combined Canadian-American landing on Kiska means in a geographical sense came from Ottawa Army headquarters which announced: "The Canadians are more than half way to Tokyo. When they landed on the rocky, fog-saturated shores of Kiska, they were 2500 air miles from Victoria, or less than 2000 miles from the Nipponese capital. They are just 800 air miles from the nearest of the Japanese Chistma (or Kurile) Islands and an equal distance from the Japanese air and naval base of Horomushire-to at the southern end of the Kamchatka Peninsula. The idea that they are "somewhere in the far north" is erroneous. Actually, Kiska is far to the west and is approximately on the same parallel of latitude as Saskatoon—or Berlin."

"The sun never sets on the British Empire." The same may be said of the Red Cross. It alleviates suffering of war victims of the United Nations the world over.

RED CROSS HANDLES NUMEROUS MESSAGES

Each week hundreds of messages are passed to and from relatives in enemy occupied countries through the Canadian Red Cross. For the week ending September 25, 137 messages were received from 14 countries and passed on through Red Cross branches to 49 places in B.C. They included six from China. Forty-eight were to relatives in Vancouver and eleven to relatives in Victoria.

Here Comes Your Refrij

For the time being you may not be able to buy the particular electrical appliance you want—but you can bet that item is serving you in far greater capacity, perhaps in the skies over Europe, in the Mediterranean area, or in the South Pacific.

Critical materials, once used for refrigerators, ranges and a score of other articles are now going into tanks, ships, planes and ammunition. They've been temporarily diverted to do a job of war so that in the victorious to-morrow that's bound to come, we can again have the pleasure of buying all those electrical gadgets that do so much to make home life a pleasure.

If your appliance needs repairs, ask your B.C. Electric dealer about it. He'll tell you exactly what can be done.

A WEEKLY EDITOR LOOKS AT Ottawa

Written specially for the weekly newspapers of Canada

By Jim Greenblatt

Taking a week's holiday from this news letter turned out to be a busman's holiday and I wound up in Regina Sask., Queen City or the Plains, taking in the annual convention of the Saskatchewan Division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association.

After two days and two nights on the train, Ottawa and its hive of war activity seems a remote place. Out here on the long stretches of flat prairie, with the manpower available, the farmers are garnering a crop which, while it isn't so much compared to last year's record bumper, will contribute greatly to feeding the United Nations.

For miles and miles on end one sees threshing rigs going full blast and numberless straw stacks—golden yellow mounds that tell a story of nature's gift in fruition. On the train, which rumbles ceaselessly on, is found part of the public opinion of Canada, and for anyone interested in the dissemination of information here is a fountain of interesting hours to be spent.

More people are travelling than ever before; and more people are learning more about Canada than they ever did before. Good will come of it. I was talking to a western agriculturist who had been down in Quebec taking a looksee. He had probably hated to persuade himself, but he admitted frankly that the Quebec farmer "was doing a good job."

You run into interesting things on a train alright. I talked with a diplomat's wife who was just three weeks away from Stockholm with her two small children and a Norwegian nurse. A high priority got her out of Sweden by plane. Some of her observations I think will record here something that I haven't seen suggested anywhere in the press of Canada or the United States. She had spoken to newspaper people in Stockholm, to people from Germany who had been in Sweden on business, to refugees just escaped from occupied Norway, and she said the feeling is growing that Germany will soon quietly move out of Norway and be rid of what's turning out to be a decided pain in the neck to her—economically, militarily, and otherwise. This is the "something" that I haven't seen even suggested before.

She said conditions in Norway are terrible, worse than what you read about. There is an average of about forty Norwegians getting out every day to Sweden and she has had the opportunity of getting first hand information. She confirmed the reports that no German troops have moved through Sweden for some time, ever since the Swedish government promulgated that edict.

People recently from Germany had told her that the city of Hamburg, for instance, was really totally obliterated. Fires so terrible raged there after the big raids that they didn't even try to stop them and cement flowed down the streets like lava. Berlin has taken a terrible pasting and is in a bad way, but her information of Mr. S. Blich.

Three of a kind!

CANADIANS ARE ALL ALIKE in one important respect. They do their own thinking and get there under their own power. It's a national characteristic.

No pampered or servile people could have built this nation. It took men of courage and moral fibre to clear the forests, dig the mines—to build our farms and factories, our cities and our towns—to give us a standard of living that is the envy of the world. Canada's greatness stems directly from the self-reliance and initiative of individual citizens. These qualities provide a sure foundation on which to build for tomorrow.

mation was that the morale of the German people is not yet shaken to the extent where there is liable to be an early collapse.

To get back to this prairie convention, which is thought important enough to be attended by the National President, J. W. Rowe of Manitou, Manitoba, and the Managing Director, C. V. Charters of Brampton, Ont., a high note of the convention, as it was at the national affair in Toronto, is the contribution weekly papers can make to the winning of victory. Why I mention this is because they merely reflect the opinions and the physical and moral effort of those who read weekly newspapers—the people who live in the areas not classed as urban.

plant a HOME ORCHARD this Fall!

The practice of planting a home orchard to supply fruits for the table and also for canning purposes is growing.

Fruits — and plenty of them — are now recognized as a necessary part of the healthy family's diet. When they are home grown and tree-ripened they possess a sweetness and freshness that is not possible to obtain otherwise. Moreover, the family need never "skimp" on health-giving fruits, even though prices be high in the market.

Costly Delay Caused
By Unpenned Calves

The fifth round of vaccination of calves against Bang's disease was completed Sept. 28 when Dr. J. G. Jervis vaccinated 101 animals. This brings the total to date to 456 calves.

It took one and a half days to go the round owing to the fact that five of the members did not have their calves tied or penned up, thus causing a delay which cost the association an extra $15 in fees.

Dr. Jervis plans to be in this district again at the end of November. Anyone not on the membership but wishing to have their calves between ages of four to eight months vaccinated, get in touch with the secretary, D. S. Heelas, Abbotsford.

Sumas C.T.A. Notes

(By D. S. Heelas)

Paulhohn Emporer Suka, No. 112947, Holstein herd sire of W. Porter & Son, Huntingdon, is certainly making a name for himself. His fourteenth daughter has recently finished her record on CTA in the Porter herd. His highest produced 524 pounds fat as a 2-year-old, and the lowest 367 pounds fat. The fourteen daughters averaged 459 pounds—a creditable record and showing a considerable increase over their dams.

This bull is sired by Carnation Emporer Suka, and is out of Paulhohn LaVeta Colantra, No. 253943, of Paull Bros, Matsqui.

J. E. Dayton has recently purchased six Holstein cows from the Porter herd, some of them by the Paulhohn Emporer Suka. Mr. Dayton is also the owner of a young Holstein bull from J. J. Grauer, Eburne.

We think more recognition should be given to the boys and girls who are doing such good work turning a hand to help their fathers and mothers on the farms. They do various things around the farm such as handling milking machines, milking and stripping; feeding cows, calves, pigs and chickens, driving teams, trucks and tractors, washing the dairy utensils, etc. Among these young farmers in Sumas are: Jean Stewart, Dale Borne, Jim Ramsey, Daphne Layton, Gloria Anderson, Pat and Michael Sterry, Billy Iten, Patsy Beldam, Christina and Olive Higgs.

The average production of all completed milking periods recorded last year in B.C. Cow-Testing Associations was 8224 pounds milk, 4.39%, 361 pounds of fat.

The highest association averaged 392 pounds fat. Sumas CTA came second with 376 pounds. Come on Sumas members! Cull out the low producers, use good bulls and above all, good feeding and farming methods and produce an average of 400 pounds butterfat.

We work and worship to the same ends.

One of us flying the Union Jack, the other the Stars and Stripes, we both nourish deep in our hearts the same concept of freedom, the same human ideals. And we share an indomitable determination that no one shall ever take them from us.

Today our soldiers fight side by side in all parts of the world. And our citizens work shoulder to shoulder to supply them and support them in their grim task. We of The House of Seagram are proud that our great plants in Canada and the United States are manned by thousands of Canadians and thousands of Americans working together... engaged 100% in the production of high-proof Alcohol for War.

THE HOUSE OF SEAGRAM

Farmers May Help Soldiers
There is nothing in the regulation of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to prevent farmers who are in the habit of giving lifts to members of the armed forces in their trucks continuing that practice. There is no ban on furnishing such assistance to wearers of the King's uniform.

Less Broom Corn
A 20 per cent reduction in the quantity of broom corn which manufacturers of brooms and whisks may be put into process has been ordered by the Prices Board. The new production quota, decided upon after conferences with the manufacturers concerned, is for the 12-month period ending July 21 next and will be based on the weight of broom corn used in the calendar year 1942. It is expected to provide brooms in only slightly reduced quantity from the number produced in 1938.

Jam Consumption Increased
One reason why rationing of jam and preserves is now in force lies in the striking increase in consumption of jam in Canada during the war years. Since the opening of hostilities, this consumption has steadily climbed until last year it amounted to 70,000,000 pounds, of which 9,000,000 pounds were exported. This left 61,000,000 pounds used in Canada, where people had found 39,000,000 pounds sufficient in 1939.

The demand for jam and kindred spreads finally became so great that it could not be met by increased production and rationing resulted in order to distribute available supplies as equitably as possible.

No more D coupons for preserves will become valid until November 11, when Nos. D6 and D7 may be used.

Loose Coupon Fine

Prosecuted by the Oil Controller for Canada, Clifford Dawley, operating the Burrard Service Station in anconover, was fined $1500 for being in possession of loose gasoline coupons. In default he must serve six months.

ly hope to equal because of their much greater and thereby more impersonal circulation. "When this has been said, let it be quickly added that in this war up to now the weekly newspapers have done a remarkably effective and magnificently unselfish job in supporting the war effort. They have given generously of their time, space and energy and will keep on so doing until the war is won. They are not holding out for more of anything except a greater opportunity of contributing to victory."

Along a similarly serious vein of thought was Premier W. J. Patterson's address to the convention. He asked the newspapermen in their various communities to preach the doctrine of hope and optimism, which must, however, be checked by the prospect of the serious problems which are still facing us. He thought it was up to the people to retain their true sense of proportion, not to regard the general outlook from any standpoint of our own personal problems; we should take the broader and national view. He meant we should not miss the forest because of the trees.

And that ends a rambling news-letter that had to be, despite the supposed week's holiday.

Editor's Note—Mr. Greenblatt's "scoop" on the suggestion that Germany will evacuate her troops from Norway was written before daily newspapers made mention of the speculation last week.

ESTABLISH MARKET STALLS FOR RED CROSS

Several B. C. Red Cross branches and units have discovered a popular way of making money for the Red Cross. They are taking advantage of these bounteous harvest days and have established market stalls on main streets and in public places where all kinds of the finest B.C. vegetables and fruits are sold. Some add home cooking, bread, cakes and pies to their stocks. Oliver and Merritt have run most successful weekly stalls all summer. Every type of article is sold there. Gordon Head unit stall at Victoria has become popular with U.S. visitors, several declaring they will take the idea "back home" to their local Red Cross chapters. The annual sale of bulbs donated by farmers, local growers, was held at the booth recently.

Kartar Singh, Vancouver fuel dealer, who recently was sentenced to three months in jail and a $500 fine for selling fuel at higher than ceiling prices, appealed this decision. Judge Lennox, who heard the appeal, revoked the prison sentence but instructed that the $500 fine should stand.

THE CHARTERED BANKS of Canada keep abreast of the Dominion's expanding needs.

Six times since 1870 the Bank Act under which the Chartered Banks operate has been revised by parliament—six times in that period the activities of the banks have been carefully scrutinized by the people's representatives.

Every ten years the Bank Act has been thus revised. Each one of the six decennial revisions has contributed much to the evolution of the banking system to meet the expanding needs of a developing Dominion.

In 1934 the sixth revision of the Bank Act was made. Fifty members of the House of Commons made up the committee, which examined witnesses—among them bank officers, government officials and reformers—and studied exhibits filed by various individuals and organizations. Findings were submitted to the House, and later that year the Bank Act was revised in many important particulars.

Through democratic enquiry and decision, the Canadian banking system has grown and been adjusted to meet the needs of the people, providing a depository for savings and a sound basis for Canada's free economic development.

DISCUSS RELIEF OF CATASTROPHE VICTIMS IN AREA

Rationed Goods To Be Released

Registered volunteer workers, injured while effecting relief during a disaster, either enemy action or otherwise, is eligible for government compensation, S. W. Hewer, assistant commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross in B.C., told a small meeting in Abbotsford Monday night. Mr. Hewer's visit was for the purpose of a round-table discussion with those volunteers who will be called upon in the event of an emergency arising in this Area. H. E. Beeltestone, president of the M-S-A branch of the Red Cross, presided at the informal meeting which was held in the lower hall of Trinity United church.

Mr. Hewer told the meeting that Provincial headquarters in Vancouver has eight 25-bed hospitals in cases, less beds and mattresses, on call at all times for despatch anywhere the need may arise. He also told that arrangements have been made with the War-time Prices and Trade Board that all rationed commodities will be released immediately in any area in the case of disaster, whether it be due to war or any other cause.

Besides these and other like points, Mr. Hewer discussed with the meeting the work of the Red Cross, ARP and St. John Ambulance Association, how they would co-operate and how the work would be divided to be handled efficiently in the event of enemy action. Civilian catastrophe, not due to the war, on the other hand, is completely the responsibility of the Red Cross, it having been the body recognized by the government for this nature of work for many years.

"We very gravely feel our responsibility, and there shall be no let-up in having the organization ready at all times to handle any type of disaster. If we are not ready and catastrophe struck, it would be a terrible shame—and a disgrace to the Red Cross. But this will not happen. We must at all times be prepared for anything that may come," said Mr. Hewer who spends his full time in Red Cross work.

LAUNDRY CONCERN OPENS FOR TRADE; THREE-DAY SERVICE

Announcement is made this week of the opening of Abbotsford Laundry, a new local industry organized by M. Goodman. The concern is housed in former cafe premises just south of the theatre, but to handle the anticipated volume of business, a large extension has been made to the rear of the building.

Modern, commercial laundry equipment has been installed and is capable of turning out a large volume, allowing the management to offer a three-day service. Besides the laundry and a dry cleaning service, it is planned to inaugurate a "pressed while you wait" service, particularly for airmen stationed at No. 24 EFTS.

A staff of six is at present employed by Mr. Goodman, adding another new industry to the growing M-S-A Area.

A DAY WILL COME..

... "— a day will come, when I'll walk up the hill back of our place, and see the colour of the wheat showing on the South quarter. I'll find the buckskin pony, and rub his ears, and ride him down to the lake. I'll want to check up on those Angus calves you've been telling me about."

"The farms round here are tiny, compared to ours, but I saw one that looked like the old Macgregor place on Highway No. 3. I'll want to drive over to the Macgregor's like we used to do for the Saturday dance in the barn."

"Hope Dad will have the tractor by then. We'll need it if we're going to put the pasture into flax. Think we'll have to paint the house, and put in electricity for Mom. Its fun thinking about it anyway — although it all seems so far away just now."

"Time to grab forty winks, and I still have to write Margaret. We didn't get much sleep in the last (censored) days coming here and we've had a hot time since we arrived, but it's a thrill to be in it with Montgomery's men."

Be seeing you — "

Yes, a day will come... when he'll be back, ready to take his place in a Canada he helped make safe for all of us. To speed that day is in our power. We at home... in factories, in offices, on farms... work long hours to hurry it along. We go without, and lend our savings to provide what he needs to win quickly. This is the least that anyone can do. And when that day comes—you'll want to welcome him—and to help him make his hopes come true.
